

Scheduling Order
Single Family Residential Construction Defect
(This Order is drafted as if filed on January 1)

The parties do not need to file the Informational Statement required by Rule 112 of the General Rules of Practice for District Courts. To the extent issues are not addressed in this Scheduling Order, the Minnesota Rules of Civil Procedure and the Minnesota General Rules of Practice, District Courts, shall apply.

1. AUTOMATIC DISCLOSURES

Automatic Disclosures, described below, are intended to aid in the efficient, cost-effective preparation of cases for trial.

A. Plaintiff:

Within 30 days after filing of the summons and complaint, the plaintiff(s) shall disclose the following information, but only to the extent that the information is otherwise discoverable pursuant to the Minnesota Rules of Civil Procedure.

- i. Information related to Plaintiffs' ownership of the dwelling in dispute, including, whether the Plaintiff(s) are original owners of the dwelling; if so, the date when Plaintiffs closed on their purchase and occupied the dwelling, as well as all documents related to purchase or construction of the dwelling, or any home improvements thereto; if not, the dates of purchase of and all home improvements to the dwelling, including all documents related to Plaintiffs' purchase or home improvements.
- ii. A description of known design or construction defect(s), the date the injury associated with each known defect was first discovered, the identity of each person first discovering the defect, the date of any inspections and the identity of the inspector(s), and the extent of any repairs at issue to date.
- iii. The identity of each person with knowledge of the facts underlying the allegations in the complaint, including name, address, and the subject of each person's knowledge
- iv. Information related to any claims made to Plaintiff's homeowner's insurance for property damage to the dwelling that is the subject of the complaint, including the name of the insurance company and the subject and date of the claim.

- v. All documents related to Plaintiffs' claims, including any and all initial inspection reports, city building file, repair estimates, contracts or purchase orders related to any repairs, and communications with the general contractor and/or subcontractors that provided work during original construction or during the remodel at issue.

B. Defendant, Third-Party, and Subsequent Defendants:

Within 45 days after the summons and complaint has been filed and served upon a Defendant Third-Party and Subsequent Defendants, such party shall disclose:

- i. A detailed description of its work on the dwelling; whether it supplied any materials, and if so, the type of materials supplied.
- ii. The identity of each person with knowledge of the facts underlying the allegations in the complaint and the disclosing parties' answer, including name, address, and the subject of each person's knowledge.
- iii. The identity of each subcontractor and supplier, and their scope of work, making available for inspection and/or copying all subcontracts, and purchase orders between the contractor and each identified subcontractor/supplier.
- iv. Information related to the date that the disclosing party received notice of any alleged defects in design or construction of the dwelling, whether the notice was written or oral, and whether it has inspected the property or made any alterations or repairs.
- v. The identity of any of liability insurer(s) and dates of insurance, making available the relevant insurance policies, endorsements, certificates of insurance and whether any reservation of rights or denial letters have been issued.
- vi. All documents relating to the above, including the complete project file. These documents must be made available for inspection and/or copying at a mutually acceptable time and place.

C. All Parties:

- i. The parties shall not serve written discovery requests on any party within the timeframe for ADR specified in paragraph 4. The parties may serve non-duplicative discovery requests after ADR has been completed.
